EXPECT 125 AT S. S. BANQUET

TO BE HELD AT FRST M. E. CHURCH TONIGHT.

CONVENTION STARTS

Delegates Continue Registering This Afternoon—Religious Education Workers Are Here.

About 125 persons have made reservations for the "radio" banquet to be held at the First M. E. Church at 6:30 o'clock tonight as the feature of the fourteenth annual convention of the Nodaway County Council of Religious Education, which began here this morning.

Due to bad roads and other activities in the county, the attendance will not be as large as at first believed. G. B. Roseberry will be the toastmaster and talks will be made by Miss Ruth Bookman, Mrs. Charles Gaugh, Lawrence Wray, Miss Marie Williams, Earl Somerville, Miss Mary Todd and Miss Zella Needles. A vocal solo will be given by Mrs. Kenneth Lawrence.

Delegates to the two-day meeting here were still registering this afternoon.

The purpose of the convention here is to give instructions to leaders in Sunday school and church work in order that they might return to their communities better able to serve.

In his address this morning on "Principles Of Teaching," H. W. Becker of St. Louis, state secretary of the religious education organization, said that a successful class of any kind depends upon a successful teacher. If the class is not a success, neither is the teacher, Mr. Becker believes. The ultimate goal of every Sunday school teacher is the making of real Christian men and women, he continued.

The state secretary then discussed the various qualities which make for character—habits, action, willingness, feeling and knowing.

"The authority of the Sunday school teacher rests upon his own personal experiences and not upon the experiences of others," he added, and said that the teacher must be able to secure and hold the interest of the members of his class.

Conferences Held.

This afternoon's program consisted of a number of separate conferences of teachers in children's, young people's and adult divisions of the Sunday school. Available teaching materials and methods used in presenting the subject to the various classes in the Sunday school were discussed. Mrs. Leonard Bosch was in charge of the children's division. Discussions were led by Mrs. Charles Gaugh, Mrs. Virgil Hartness, Mrs. R. E. Jones and Mrs. Ellis Cook. Sand tables, booklets, posters and crayon work are used in teaching Bible lessons to children. Some handwork done at the Daily Vacation Bible School here last summer was shown. Inasmuch as the child's main source of knowledge comes through his eyes, this work is of special importance in Sunday school instruction, it was pointed out.

In her talk at the young people's conference, Miss Virginia Braun discussed the organization of classes to meet the needs of young people. In outlining work for young people, four requirements must be considered, Miss Braun said. These are the physical, mental, religious and social. A healthy body is the principal requisite to a full life, she continued. The mental side is taken care of by study and the social life by parties, and other forms of entertainment. But the religious life must be taken care of also, Miss Braun declared, and this is done by church and Sunday School work.

Capable Leaders Needed.

Mrs. L. L. St. Clair discussed "The Young People We Lead," and was based upon the nature of the youth from the standpoint of psychology, the possibility of training youth and the responsibility of those who direct the activities. Conscientious and capable leaders are needed if the youth of today are to be led in the right way, Mrs. St. Clair said.

Miss Ruth Bookman was in charge of the young people's conference.

Adult and administrative conferences, with H. W. Becker and Willard Carter, director of religious education at the First Congregational Church at Kansas City, in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Lugar and family went to St. Joseph Wednesday to spend the day.

Grand Jury in Session Again

Several Witnesses Were Before That Body Today—Will Report Tomorrow.

The grand jury resumed their session this morning after an adjournment which was taken last Friday evening. There were several witnesses before that body today. It is said their deliberations will not be concluded until tomorrow.

The members of the jury are expected to visit the county jail probably late this afternoon.

LIBRARIANS TO CONVENE HERE

ABOUT FIFTY EXPECTED TO ATTEND MEETING.

EXHIBITS AT COLLEGE

James A. McMillan, Formerly of Pickering, Will Deliver An Address At Country Club Friday.

About fifty librarians from St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Jefferson City, Columbia and most of the Colleges in Northwest Missouri are expected to attend the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Missouri Library Association, which opens here tomorrow morning.

The librarians will meet at the Elks building tomorrow afternoon and at the country club Friday afternoon. All remaining sessions will be held with the Northwest Missouri teachers at the College auditorium.

The librarians association has a membership of about one hundred but because the national convention was held only last week at Atlantic City and on account of the busy season at most of the college and city libraries, the attendance at the convention here will not be as large as at first expected.

Book companies will have several exhibits at the College during the convention. Several types of binders for books and magazines will be shown as will a number of pastors to encourage reading and use of libraries.

One of the principal speakers on the program will be Milton J. Ferguson, state librarian of California, who will explain the county library movement. Missouri now has a law which provides for these county libraries which may be taken to any town or community in the county. It is believed that when Northwest Missouri teachers know more of the purposes of the county library movement, they will take advantage of the opportunity.

James A. McMillan, librarian of Washington University, St. Louis, will deliver an address at the meeting at the country club Friday afternoon. Mr. McMillan is a son of C. G. McMillan of Pickering and is a graduate of the Maryville High School. He is well known in this county. Before becoming librarian of Washington University, Mr. McMillen was city librarian at Rochester, N. Y.

Musical Will End Tomorrow's Bazaar

Epworth League At The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Prepares An Interesting Program.

The annual bazaar to be held at the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, tomorrow will be concluded with a musical program which is to start at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening. The program is to be given under the auspices of the Epworth League of that church.

The program follows:

Organ solo, selected, Miss Wilson.

Duna, (McGill); Could I Forget, (Chadwick), Mr. Barrett, tenor.

Adoration, (Fendal), Mr. Williams, violinist.

When Celia Sings, (Moir); The Little Pamozel, (Novello), Miss Mills, soprano.

Offering.

Ave Maria, (Schubert-Liszt), Miss Dickey, pianist.

A Maid Sings Light, (Mac Dowell); Come Sweet Morning, (arranged by A. L.), Mr. Monk, baritone.

Reading Specialty, Miss Tappe.

The Birds Passage Farewell, (Hildach), Miss Mills and Mr. Monk.

Dr. Ryan To Meeting.

Dr. F. M. Ryan left today for St. Joseph, where he will attend a meeting and banquet tonight of the alumni of the old St. Joseph medical school. Dr. Ryan was graduated from this school in 1892. The meeting tonight will be held at the St. Francis Hotel.

SUPERVISION TO BE TRIED

THREE-YEAR SCHOOL EXPERIMENT UNDER WAY HERE.

FORTY SCHOOLS USED

Plan Is Explained at Meeting of County Superintendents.—Standards Now High, Says Godbey.

Experiments to continue for three years, designed to show the value of rural school supervision, are being carried on in Nodaway County under the auspices of the State Teachers College H. T. Phillips, head of the college department of education, told the county superintendents of nine Northwest Missouri counties, meeting here this afternoon.

The experiments are being conducted by Leslie G. Somerville, Nodaway county superintendent, and Miss Elizabeth White, a member of the college faculty. Forty schools have been divided into two classes, twenty of them to receive supervision and the other twenty to have only that which the county superintendent is able to give.

Intelligence tests were given in all the schools and pupils of equal ability were put in each class. At the end of each year, achievement tests will be given and comparison will be made between the schools receiving supervision and those receiving none.

Nodaway county is the only one in the state in which such a project has been or is being carried out, Mr. Phillips said.

The county superintendents were told also that the demand for trained teachers continues good.

"Every student of sixty-hour rank, recommended by the College, secured a possession, and we could have placed many more," Mr. Phillips declared.

A response to Mr. Phillip's welcome on behalf of the college was made by Mrs. Allie S. Wilson, superintendent of Mercer county public schools. Mrs. Wilson praised the hospitality shown to visitors by Maryville citizens, beginning with a welcome at the train and continuing at the college and in the homes thrown open to them.

"We love the college, because it is ours, and we want to do all we can to support it," Mrs. Wilson said.

Other addresses were made by J. C. Godbey, high school supervisor, and Miss Cassie Burk, rural school supervisor. These two presided jointly over the meeting.

"There is a greater opportunity for rural school development that for high school development," Mr. Godbey declared, giving as a reason the fact that high schools have nearly reached the constitutional limit of taxation, while many rural districts still have low levies.

Missouri standards for teachers, he added, now are fully equal to, and in some respects higher than, those of surrounding states. High school teachers now are required not only to have degrees but to have training in the subjects they teach.

Miss Burk characterized the state's classification of rural schools into first and second class approved lists as only a means for improving the rural school situation.

"Classification is a means only and not an end," Miss Burk declared. "When a school becomes classified, that is only a beginning.

In her visits to rural schools, Miss Burk said she had found that those which went to the trouble of obtaining state approval as first class had better teachers, who are better paid and stay longer, that the attitude of pupils is better, and that there is better equipment and better sanitary conditions than many of the town grade schools.

Discussions followed each of these talks, after which there were three-minute talks on "Health Work," "Moral Training," "Training in English," "First Class Schools," "Attendance," and "Professional Training of Teachers."

The early arrivals at the meeting were E. J. Ketterman, Platte county; Mrs. Allie S. Wilson, Mercer county; Miss Irene O'Brien, Daviess county; Otis L. Chandler, Ray county, Mrs. Mary E. Guilliams, Holt county; Miss Eva Page, Grundy county; Miss Marie Swain, Harrison county; D. D. Hooper, Andrew county; and Leslie G. Somerville, Nodaway county.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spire, of Parnell, announce the birth, Tuesday, of a son.

Car Owners Asked to Meet Evening Trains

Many Teachers Will Arrive in Maryville Tonight for Annual Convention—C. of C. to Be in Charge.

Eighty cars will be needed to meet the three passenger trains tonight to transport the visiting teachers to their rooming places. Fifty will be needed at the 7:40 o'clock Wabash, twenty-five for the Burlington and five for the 9:46 o'clock Wabash.

Rooms will be assigned at the Chamber of Commerce office by Mrs. A. R. Perrin and her assistants. If the teachers know where they are to stay, it is suggested that the drivers can save time by taking them directly to their rooming places.

All persons who can furnish cars to meet any of the trains tonight are urged to do so, as most of the teachers will come to Maryville by rail on account of the condition of the roads.

YEO WINNER OF A PRIZE

SOCIAL SCIENCE AWARD MADE AT COLLEGE TODAY.

FROM MRS. C. T. BELL

Burdette Yeo's Thesis Was The Best Submitted While David Nicholson's Work Ranked Second.

Burdette Yeo, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Yeo of Maryville, was today awarded the social science prize of $60 at the State Teachers College. This prize forms part of an annual gift of $100 by Mrs. Charles T. Bell for the best research and class room work in the social science department at the College. The award today was based on a thesis submitted to a committee of professors of the University of Missouri.

David Nicholson, a senior at the college last year, and this year principal of a grade school at Flat River, Mo., was awarded second prize. This was a check for $25.

The Bell prizes were established last year and will be given for two more years. The award is made to stimulate interest in research in the social sciences, and is made through the faculty of the social science department. The award was made this morning by Henry A. Foster, chairman of the social science department.

Yeo's thesis was, "The Trend of Child Labor in the United States from 1910 to 1926." Nicholson wrote on "Visualization in the Teaching of History."

Each year, students who are majoring or minoring in any of the social sciences are allowed to compete for the Bell prizes. They must submit a thesis which is graded by a committee from the University of Missouri. In addition, their classwork must be of a superior calibre. There is an appropriation of $15 from the annual gift of Mrs. Bell which may go for a third prize. The faculty of the department did not see fit to award a third prize this year.

Young Yeo has had an enviable record at the college. Last week the students of the institution chose him as the president of their student association. This honor is the greatest which may be given a student of the college.

Nicholson was prominent in school activities at the college while a student here. He was a varsity debater and was well known in the field of forensics.

The committee from the University which graded the theses submitted last year was made up of Professors Robert J. Kerner and Jesse E. Wrench of the history department, and A. F. Kuhlman of the sociology department.

In making the award this morning, Mr. Foster spoke highly of Yeo's paper, saying that it represented an unusual type of social science research.

Bratcher Elected Yell Leader Today

Paul Bratcher, a beginning senior, was elected chief yell leader of the student body of the Maryville High School at a meeting held late yesterday. Bratcher succeeds Kenneth Greeson, who is unable to attend every game and pep assembly.

Lawrence Wray was elected assistant leader to scceed Edward Deitz, who has resigned. Miss Neva Wilkerson is the third member of the pep trio.

WILL APPROVE PARIS MEETING

LEGIONNAIRES TO ADJOURN IN NEW YORK.

PERSHING REFUSES

A. E. F. Head Notifies Nominating Committee He Will Be Unable To Accept Commandry.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—Today the American Legion votes to take its 1927 national convention to Paris, a "ten years after" affair.

Sometime during the day, the "time and place" committee will report unanimously in favor of taking the convention back to the land of the World War battle sites for next year's meeting place. Already the convention has indicated its determination to visit Paris in 1927 despite isolated protests made on the grounds that anti-American sentiment in France is too strong to permit a reunion there as "such an early date."

The convention committee will recommend that the Legion go to Paris and "adjourn in New York." The latter is an answer to the objections raised that under the constitution granted by Congress one meeting annually must be held in continental United States. The Legionnaires, under this plan, would hold the full convention in France and then permit the ultimate ratification of their projects after returning to the United States by a committee of one each from the delegations holding voting power.

The program to elect General John J. Pershing as the next national commander, however, threatens to be upset. The World War commander, it is understood, has advised the special committee that he is not available for the post, citing his advanced age as one reason for declining the honor.

Old Resident Dies at Burlington Junction

William Short, 74, Succumbs To Paralytic Stroke; Funeral At Methodist Church There Tomorrow.

William Short, 74 years of age, who moved to Burlington Junction 47 years ago, died at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at his home in the west part of town, as a result of a paralytic stroke. He left his home in the morning to go to the Halferty farm, one mile west of town, where he was engaged in putting in a concrete foundation for a new dwelling soon to be erected. Soon after reaching the place of work he was stricken and became unconscious, and was hurried to his home. He died at 2:30 o'clock without regaining consciousness. He was born on August 11th, 1852, in Mason County, Illinois and came to Nodaway County in 1879. He has been married three times, the first time to Miss Susan Haines, of Mason County, Ill., and later, she having died, he was married to Miss Fannie Reed. After her death, and some years later, he was married to Mrs. Lucy West, of Shenandoah, Ia., who survives him. He is also survived by one son by his second marriage, Eugene Short, who is married and lives west of Quitman. His funeral will be held in the Methodist Church, Thursday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock conducted by the pastor, the Rev. J. Howard Thompson. Burial will be made in Ohio, Cemetery.

Launches Attack on Company Labor Unions

American Federation of Labor Convention Terms Them "Menace To Trade Unions and Industry."

Washington, Oct. 13.—The United States government can attend international conferences with Russia without implying recognition of the soviet government, a high state department official declared today.

Non-recognition of Russia would not prevent the United States from joining in a conference on revision of the 1911 four-power fur seal treaty requested by Japan, it was said.

The statement was considered significant as the United States has long delayed the seal conference rather than to sit with Russian delegates.

Dr. Person to K. C. Meeting.

Dr. R. C. Person will attend the alumni medical meeting to be held in Kansas City tonight. Alumni from a number of medical colleges in the United States will be present. Dr. Person was graduated from Creighton University, Omaha, in 1912.

Can Attend Meeting With Soviet Officials

Presence At Conference On Fur Treaty Does Not Necessarily Imply Recognition, It Is Pointed Out.

Detroit, Oct. 13.—A stirring attack upon company unions and adoption of a report which characterized such organizations as a "menace to trade unions and American industry" was made today by the American Federation of Labor in convention here.

Citing the Industrial Mutual Association of Flint, Mich., sponsored by the General Motors Co., as an example, John T. Frye, president of the Ohio Federation of Labor, asserted the company unions were a "denial of fundamental union liberty through control."

REED ASSAILS U. S. DRY LAW

SENATOR ASSAILS PROHIBITION AS NOT SUCCESS.

SUGGESTS WAY OUT

Would Strictly Regulate Manufacture And Sale Of Liquor Backed With Educational Program.

St. Louis, Oct. 13.—Explaining that he did not want to be called a wet if it meant "flooding this country with liquor and turning our people into habits of intemperance," Senator James A. Reed was on record today as bitterly opposed to prohibition as it is now enforced in this country.

Reed declared he was for a temperant nation which, he said, prohibition had failed to accomplish. He estimated that more than ten million persons are deliberately violating the prohibition law and that beer and whisky are being manufactured in the homes by parents in the presence of children.

The speaker explained that one way to bring about temperance would be to pass laws strictly regulating the manufacture and sale of liquor, forbiding the sale of liquors to minors or to incompetents, and to back these efforts by "education, by appeals to reason, by teaching the people self-restraint and by the guidance of moral and religious persuasion."

"Another thory," he continued, "is to forbid by statute the sale or possession of liquor, fixing heavy penalties, employing an army of spies and detectives. The latter has been tired out and we are not to consider whether it ought to work but whether it does work."

Declares Kaiser Not Desirous of Moving

Wife of Former German Ruler Spikes Recent Rumors of Intention To Return To Fatherland.

Castle Sabor, Sicily, Oct. 13.—"I authorize you to state positively that the kaiser has taken no steps whatsoever to change his domicile."

Princess Hermine, wife of the former kaiser, made this statement today in answer to rumors and reports published all over the world during the last few days that Wilhelm had planned to return to Germany.

These rumors had arisen as a result of the new compromise plan for the indemnification of the Hohenzollerns which have caused two days of riotous disorders in the Prussian territory. Paragraph seven of this compromise plan gives a famous German castle to the former kaiser and his family "in case they should return to Germany."

Princess Hermine said that the paragraph in the compromise regarding the castle does not by any means indicate that the former kaiser desires to return to Germany at this time.

Russell Scott Again Saved From Gallows

Court Grants Stay Of Execution Until His Case Can Be More Thoroughly Reviewed.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 13.—Russell T. Scott, again escaped the gallows today when the Illinois Supreme Court granted him a writ of supercedeas staying his execution until the case can be reviewed by the court.

Scott was to have been hanged in Chicago Friday for the murder of Joseph Maurer, a Chicago drug clerk, during a holdup.

Trueblood Returns.

Elmer Trueblood of Oklahoma City, who has been here visiting his sister, Mrs. S. G. Gillam, and his father, Mr. William Trueblood, returned home this morning.

ASKS RETURN OF EVIDENCE

INDIANA ATTORNEY ASKS BORAH FOR DOCUMENTS.

STEVENSON TESTIFIES

Goes Before Grand Jury In Investigation Of Corrupt Charges—Senator Reed Asked To Investigate.

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.—Attorney-General Arthur L. Gilliom of Indiana today called upon United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho to return immediately to Thomas H. Adams, Vincennes publisher, any documents which have been sent him by Adams to substantiate his charges of wholesale political corruption in the state.

In his telegram to Borah, sent to Washington, Gilliom declared, "The glaring need of the moment is evidence of fact."

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 13.—D. C. Stevenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Klan and pivot of the current scandal here, went before the Marion County grand jury today in a surprise move by Prosecutor Remy which took the breath away from the counsel for the defense.

The court order directing that the former Klan leader be brought before the grand jury had set tomorrow afternoon as the time of his appearance. The former Klan leader was before the jury an hour and a half. Stevenson was removed early today from the state penitentiary at Michigan City where he is serving a life sentence for the murder of Madge Oberholtzer.

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.—An appeal to Senator James A. Reed of Missouri to undertake a Senatorial probe of the alleged political corruption in Indiana was made here today by Boyd Gurley, editor of the Indianapolis Times. The call upon Reed follows a similar request made upon Senator William E. Borah by Thomas H. Adams, chairman of the Indiana Editorial Association, who launched the present investigation.

Boonville Man Slain by Nixon Co. Investor

Emil B. Turner, Son-In-Law Of Fugitive Loan Man, Killed By Former Kemper Instructor.

Boonville, Mo., Oct. 13.—Emil B. Turner, 34, son-in-law of Charles Nixon and a partner in the Nixon farm loan company here, was shot and killed today at his office by C. Cockerill of Indiana. Cockerill, it is understood, lost his life's savings in the recent failure of the Nixon Loan Co., around which an investigation has been brewing.

Cockerill surrendered to the sheriff and refused to talk. He was formerly on the faculty of the Kemper Military Academy here. He came to Boonville from Kansas City last night.

Not only citizens of this community but investors all over the United States entrusted Nixon with hundreds of thousands of dollars for his various financial projects. Since Nixon left, Turner had occupied the loan company's office, which has since become the Turner Real Estate Co.

To St. Joseph for Bad Check Writer

Dale Yeager, who has been wanted by the authorities here since May 22, 1925, was picked up in St. Joseph today by Sheriff Harve Boyle, of Buchanan County. Sheriff Lowell B. Campbell left this afternoon for that city and will return this evening with Yeager.

Yeager is wanted here on a bad check charge. At that time he was living near Skidmore but Sheriff Campbell has never been able to locate him until today.

Question of Retrial Is Up to Buckner

New York, Oct. 13.—The question of the retrial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney-general, and Thomas W. Miller, former Alien property custodian, is entirely in the hands of Emory R. Buckner, United States attorney, the department of justice indicated today.

Weather

Fair tonight and tomorrow; rising temperature tomorrow.

Farmer of Maryville Tops Cattle Market

W. E. Espey Sells Twelve Shorthorn Yearlings at $11.75.—J. R. King and Son Sell Load at $11.

W. E. Espey, farmer and feeder near Maryville, was the owner of the top drove of cattle sold on Tuesday's live-stock market at St. Joseph. The lot consisted of twelve shorthorns that averaged 1,007 pounds a head and sold at $11.75.

J. R. King and Son of Hopkins also were on the market Tuesday with a load of long yearlings good enough to command $11 a hundredweight. The twenty-eight head in the shipment averaged 1,007 pounds, the same as the Espey consignment.

Other Nodaway countians who contributed stock to Tuesday's market were O. W. Shores, Bradford Brothers, Culahan and Kemp and W. I. Ringold.

The Espey yearlings attracted special attention, the Stock Yards Daily Journal having the following:

The owner reports that the yearlings were fed for a year in dry lot, and during the feeding period were given corn, alfalfa and oil meal.

"They were started out lightly and the ration was increased until they were on full feed and they had full feed until ready for sale," said Mr. Espey. "I am a firm believer in dry lot feeding and think that alfalfa is the best roughage that can be fed. I have been shipping to the St. Joseph market for 25 years and think that it is as good as any, and a lot better than some. Our corn is not standing up very good this year."

Mr. Espey's sons had two Shorthorn entries at the recent Baby Beef show here. His herd of cattle are all pure bred Shorthorns and he raises all the cattle that he sells. Along with the shipment of cattle Mr. Espey also cashed in a load of light hogs that sold at $13.00.

Frank Conlin, Arkoe, in Serious Condition

Frank Conlin, well known farmer near Arkoe, is reported very seriously ill. Mr. Conlin was stricken two years ago with influenza, combined with a nervous breakdown, resulting in growths throughout his chest and lung cavities. Mr. Conlin has been under the care of four physicians, was in St. Francis Hospital here for some time and also took treatment for three months in the Missouri Methodist Hospital in St. Joseph. At present he is at home, where he has been confined to his bed since June 10.

Two Speak Before Hi-Y Organization

Dr. C. C. James And Martin Lewis, Jr., On Program This Morning.—Are Board Members.

Martin Lewis, jr., and Dr. C. C. James were speakers this morning at a meeting of the Hi-Y Club of the Maryville high school. Both are members of the Hi-Y board.

Mr. Lewis laid stress on the value of individual effort. The speaker expressed his views on the Hi-Y and its work and stated that its benefits to high school boys was strong enough to warrant support from all of the churches.

Dr. James spoke briefly on the subject of, "The Man That Missed The Trail." He characterized men in history who missed their mark by single events.

Plans were discussed for the ticket sale for "Up In Mabel's Room," to be shown at the Missouri Theater, October 26 and 27 under the auspices of the club. The proceeds will be used to send delegates to the older boys conference at Trenton, November 26 to 28. Carl LeRoy Fisher, treasurer, has been placed in charge of the ticket sale.

A committee of three boys has been appointed to set a date for the second annual Father and Son banquet. Three boys have also been appointed to arrange with the Girl Reserves for a Hallowe'en Party.

Teachers Meet in Springfield

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 13.—The annual convention of the Southwest Missouri Teachers' association will be held at Springfield, Oct. 21, 22 and 23. Approximately 1,900 teachers from 23 counties comprising the district will be in attendance.

Will Erect Memorial to a Former Speaker

Bowling Green, Mo., Oct. 13.—Plans are nearing completition here for the erection of a monument to the memory of Champ Clark, former speaker of the house, and for many years a figure of national importance. The monument will be in the form of a statue of the distinguished Missourian in the familiar attire which he wore during his long political career.

The statue is to be erected in the county courthouse yard at Bowling Green. Clark was at one time city attorney of Louisiana and he also taught school there.

Autumn Homecoming Event

Now is the time to buy new furniture—now in the home season of the year, when you can get rich pleasure from it. Why deprive yourself when our deferred payment plan makes it wonderfully easy to take advantage of values in our Autumn Homecoming Event?

Fall's the True Home Season

This is the time of year when folks like to come indoors, to draw the blinds on gloomy skies, to light cheerful lamps, and then lazy-down deep into good-natured chairs. Just "being at home" feels downright good after summer's whirlwind of activities!

It's good to spend peaceful evenings at home even in surroundings that are familiar in every part—but it's more wonderful still to feel oneself being refreshed in surroundings that have taken on new life and interest. Suppose you treat your home to a few new things this month. It will be an easy matter, involving little money, if you take advantage of the values to be found in our store.

New Bedroom Suites

If you want to have the smartest, most interesting kind of bedroom—the type of bedroom that never goes unnoticed by visiting friends and relatives—make it a point to see some of the new suites purchased at the July furniture markets. One suite we are particularly proud of is a suite in blended walnut consisting of bed, vanity dresser, chest and bench.

The walnut veneers are selected for beauty and uniformity of figure and the small floral decorations give a colorful effect that is pleasing to the eye. This suite complete sells for $175

Complete Transformation for the Plain Dining Room

Have you a plain dining room, a room that lacks all charm when it's inactive? Then there's something wrong with the furniture. The Suite itself must be characterful; the most engaging accessories cannot make interesting a dining room that's filled with commonplace pieces. One of these new Suites will bring about complete transformation.

Little Things Carrying Comfort With Them

The living room that everyone admires doesn't owe its charm to the big things it possesses, but to the little things that help those big things to serve folks better. Willing little tables, accommodating lamps, pretty quarters for books—these perform a mighty mission in the modern living room that satisfies. Round out your scheme with them.

Mahogany Veneer End Tables	$7.75
Coxwell Chairs, Tapestry	$63
Book Trough End Tables	$8.00
Pottery Base Table Lamps	$10.00
Junior Floor Lamps	$8.85
Rush-bottom Windsor Chairs	$15.50

GOOD PICTURES

are as essential in the home as good rugs or good furniture.
In this day of so many beautiful reproductions of both old and modern masters, no home should be without at least a few.
Come in and see our selection of framed pictures and mirrors—or perhaps you have some good pictures that need modern frames. We shall be glad to help you select whatever you need. Our prices are surprisingly low. We have a special stock for National Picture Week,
Oct. 10 to 20.

Rugs Are Among October Specials

A homemaker's event that didn't include Floor-coverings among its specials would be a poor thing indeed. Lovely axminsters present some of the most exceptional values in this great event.

A Pair of Splendid Values

A headliner in this Autumn Event is an eight-piece Dining Suite of walnut veneer and gumwood construction. Chairs have tapestry seats..... $150

A second exceptionally good value consists of 8 dining pieces in fine figured walnut veneers. Tudor style details. Chairs covered in mohair..... $185.85

Let Your Living Room Come First, of Course

Which is the favorite room in every house? The living room, of course, because that is the room that is friendly no matter what one's mood, the room that offers solace as well as stimulation. Make it even more satisfying than it is. Drive out every shabbiness so that you may be exceedingly proud to have your friends see the room you love so much. Why not new upholstered furniture, to start the season right?

DAWES IS FOR CONVENTIONS

VICE-PRESIDENT OPPOSES PRESENT PRIMARY.

FOR BETTER OFFICERS

"If American Government Is to Be Success, People Must Vote," He Tells Legionnaires.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—Abolition of the direct primary and a return to the party convention system of nominating candidates were advocated by Vice-President Dawes in an address here yesterday before the convention of the American Legion.

"Personally I believe that the primary system should be largely abolished and that if we follow the theory and plan of representative government laid down in our Constitution providing for nomination conventions, a better and more impartial class of candidates will result," Dawes declared.

Dawes' attack on the primary came as a conclusion to his portrayal of the careless attitude of the American public toward the right to vote. He quoted statistics showing that in the average primary the candidate who eventually won the election won his way to that success through the support of seven per cent of the qualified electorate.

"People Must Vote."

"If the American government is to be a success the American people must vote," Dawes said. "Indifference in the attitude of the American public toward the franchise is the greatest existing menace to American institutions."

The Vice-President heartily endorsed the campaign of the American Legion to assist in bringing out the vote in national, state, county and city elections. He said he regarded this as the most important service to the nation the Legion could undertake.

Dawes emphasized the danger in the fact that as the proportion of voters to vote was steadily decreasing the proportion of citizens who had a direct pecuniary interest in the government was steadily increasing.

"We all realize that as our national wealth and population increase and business broadens and becomes more diversified that there arises the necessity not only for the centralization of greater power in state, county and city government, but for its constant use in the carrying out of its legitimate projects," he said.

Difficult to Arouse Voters.

"Especially is this true in connection with state government. Immense road building propects are being carried out by states assisted by the National Government. Our state and city administrations are accustomed not only to use public employees in getting out a primary vote to maintain an existing administration in power, but in many places all those interested in construction or other public contracts with their organization and employees are expected to perform active service in getting out the primary vote for the same purpose.

"At the time, therefore, when owing to the indifference of the public to the franchise, the number of qualified voters necessary to control a primary election is lessening, the number of those having a business interest in the continuance of an existing administration and willing to work at the polls for it is rapidly increasing. While the general and impartial vote is decreasing, the controlled vote is steadily increasing.

War Largely Forgotten.

"Seven years after the war we are now only far enough away from it to make correctly a few generalizations of the many which the future will make possible. One of these, it seems to me, is the indifference of our generation itself to that which has happened and its consequences. Among the masses of our people the War seems to be largely forgotten, or remembered only because of some personal consequence.

"Now, within a short time of the ending of the War, the greatest of the ages—through which tens of millions directly or indirectly lost their lives—in which great nations were shaken into new relationships and forms like pieces of glass in a kaleidoscope—a war which was a new starting point in world history—this generation which has played this great part seems as a mass to be living heedlessly, almost recklessly, and with little thought of the future.

"As for the people of the United States, their strenuous activity in that war for the preservation of the form and principles of their Government seems under the laws of human reaction to have resulted in indifference on their part to present dangers which now beset their Government the greatest of which is that indifference itself. We are in a national period, apparently of relaxation."

Mrs. Sielaff Testifies Noted Evangelist Conspired To Have Her Preach At Angelus Temple.

Los Angeles, Oct. 13.—New details of an alleged plot by Aimee Semple McPherson and her co-defendants to prepare false evidence and to obstruct justice were presented by the prosecution today as Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff confessed perpetrator of the "Miss X" hoax, continued her testimony at the evangelist's preliminary hearing.

The "Miss X" case woman, whose confession broke the McPherson case when it seemed ready to die, resumed relation of arrangements for the "Miss X" hoax at the point where she was interrupted by Monday night's adjournment for Columbus day.

Testimony that Mrs. McPherson planned to dress Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff in an Angelus temple uniform and have her preach a sermon from the temple platform will be given at the hearing, deputy District Attorney E. J. Dennison announced as court convened here.

Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff told Dennison that had been done to demonstrate how similar she and Mrs. McPherson were in appearance and to prove how easily she could have been mistaken for the evangelist at Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Mrs. Wiseman's story of the hoax may take up most of the court session today, deputy prosecutor Murray said. Cross-examination probably will be held up until tomorrow.

When she took the stand this afternoon, Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff testified that Mrs. McPherson coached her on ehr "Miss X" story after she had reported to the evangelist that she "didn't get along so well" in her efforts to convince Asa Keyes, district attorney, that she was the one seen at the cottage with Orminston and that "Miss X" was her sister.

COUNTY CORN 74 PER CENT

PROBABLE ACRE YIELD IS ESTIMATED AT 30 BUSHELS.

PASTURES EXCELLENT

For Most Of Growing Crops, September Rains Washed Away Benefit Of August Rains.

According to the farmers of Nodaway County, corn shows the October condition to be 74 per cent, with a probable yield of 30 bushels per acre. The county per cent of wheat marketed is 70; the average yield of oats per acre on 36,390 acres is 27 bushels; condition of pasture is 101 per cent, and apples 45 per cent.

While August rains helped September condition of all growing crops, the rains of September have had the opposite effect on October condition. Over most of the northern two-thirds of the state rain fell every day during September, and in much of the central and northern parts rain fell 12 to 14 consecutive days, total average precipitation for the period being nearly five inches. Most of the small creeks and smaller rivers were out of banks several times, resulting in much damage and loss to bottom land crops.

Fall plowing for winter wheat seeding is generally delayed, and much of the ground plowed early is having to be plowed again. Stubble broken early is green with growth. There is complaint of fly in St. Clair County. Some of the intended wheat acreage in different sections of the state is being abandoned, because of rain and mud, especially where farmers planned to cut corn and plant wheat.

State's Corn Is 76 Per Cent.

The October condition of the Missouri corn crop is 76 per cent with a normal forecast of 190,882,000 bushels on 6,825,000 acres against 201,338,000 on 6,825,000 acres, October, 1925, according to E. A. Logan of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics and Jewell Mayes of the State Board of Agriculture. September rains reduced condition of corn 3 points, and from all sections come complaint of too much rain for ripening of corn, worms in the late crops, corn blown down and rotting, and in the valleys overflows were the worst in ten years, sometimes as many as four overflows occuring in the same streams during September in the north two-thirds and in the north and central parts of the state. The state average is 28 bushels against 26 last year.

Corn matured very slowly in September. Frost occurred in the north part of the state, but damage to corn is not shown by Weather Bureau records. Much corn has been cut and fed green to stock or stored in silos.

The oats crop for 1926 averages 20 bushels to the acre, a total production of 42,740,000 bushels on 2,137,000 acres, against 49,166,000 bushels on 1,891,000 acres with an average of 26 bushels per acre, October, 1925. Some farmers report their oats not threshed, rotting in the shock. The quality of oats is 73 per cent.

Spring wheat shows an average yield of 19 bushels, quality 83 per cent; barley, 24 bushels per acre yield; buckwheat shows condition of 84 per cent. Farmers report that 68 per cent of all wheat has been marketed, which is slightly more than the average year.

Hay Production Smaller.

The total production of tame hay is 1.07 tons per acre on 3,298,000 acres against 1.10 tons per acre on 3,399,000 acres last year. 1926 quality of hay is 85 per cent. The late cut hay is inferior to the July-August crop, late cuttings having cured badly because of rainy weather. Unusual difficulty is being experienced in harvesting both soybeans and cowpeas; in mist-sections such acreages as have been cut have laid in the fields uncured, and on many farms soybean and cowpea seed and hay have poor prospect of being cut and saved.

Pastures show good condition, farmers reporting it at 92 per cent with some complaint of its lack of nutriment, in spite of luxurant growth. Livestock generally is reported in good condition.

The October conditions for fruit in Missouri are: Apples 54 per cent; peaches 71 per cent; pears 76 per cent; grapes 91 per cent. Sorghum cane for sirup shows condition of 84 per cent. Condition of potatoes is 75 per cent; sweet potatoes 81 per cent. Difficulty developed in harvesting the farm potato crop on account of wet ground, and there will be some loss from rot. Tobacco has a condition of 87 per cent, with probable yield of 1150 pounds per acre.

Cotton condition 64 per cent, and dry weather needed for maturing of additional bolls. Picking slow progress, except in higher fields, and usual shortage of labor at this time of year in cotton counties. Rice shows condition of 80 per cent, and has passed danger of frost, but continuous rains delaying harvesting. Some little rice is reported fallen. Condition of grain sorghum is 87 per cent.

A FORMER PRESIDENT.

E. R. Adams, one of the well known men at teachers meetings, was president of the association in 1923 and in 1924 was made a member of the executive committee of the association, a position which he still occupies.

Mr. Adams has been superintendent of the public schools at Tarkio for four years and was superintendent at New Hampton for five years before going to Tarkio. Te was graduated from the State Teachers College here in the summer of 1922 with the degree of B. S. in Education, and since his graduation here has been a graduate student of Missouri and Chicago Universities.

"From what I have observed of the program for the meeting this week," says Mr. Adams, "I believe it is one of the strongest, if not indeed, the best, program that has ever been staged in Northwest Missouri."

Grew 45 Tubers on One Potato Plant

Rich Hill, Mo., Oct. 13.—O. W. Puryear, claims the potato growing championship of Missouri. He grew 45 pounds of the tubers from one seed potato.

University Provides Student Aid Money

Missouri Institution Has Nearly Half Million Dollars In Loan Fund Now.

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 13.—Missouri University, with a half million dollar student loan fund, has the largest reserve for student aid of any American university, according to Leslie Cowan, university secretary.

Speaking before a meeting of students, who work part time to pay their expenses, Cowan urged them to do their work carefully.

"Do your work carefully," he said. "If you are washing windows, wash them clean. We continually get complaints of the careless work of some student."

Among other speakers on the program was Glenn Hovey, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who declared women employers like to hire "big, husky fellows."

"We often send out a small fellow, however," Hovey said, "and the woman is just as satisfied as if she got a 'big husky fellow' to do it."

Hovey asserted that the man who does his work well never finds himself without it. "Do your work well," he said, "and they will want you again."

A DISLODGED RETINA IS HARD TO MEND

Near Sightedness or Other Vision Impairment Comes When the Eyes' "Film" Is Disturbed by Bleeding or a Blow.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator From New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Lining the inside of the back part of the eyeball is a delicate membrane, the retina. Without it there could be no sight.

The eye is a hollow globe, the outer shell of which is a firm, fibrous coat or envelope. Inside this outer coat is a middle layer, made up largely of blood-vessels. Against this rests the retina, the innermost coat, like tissue paper in its thickness.

The retina is not securely attached. It is applied in the most uncertain manner to the tissues back of it. Towards the front of the eye it is bound down, but between this outer boundary and the optic nerve the retina is very lightly adherent to the neighboring structures.

The eye being compared to a camera, the retina corresponds to the plate or film upon which the picture is formed. It is upon the retina that all the scenes of our daily life are pictured. If the retina is out of place, it is as if a moving picture were projected upon a curtain hanging in pleats or folds, instead of upon a smooth, flat surface. The picture would be distorted, or so badly out of focus as to be meaningless.

To have perfect sight, then, the retina must be smoothly spread and accurately adjusted to its proper position. Detachment of the retina, as its name indicates, is a falling away of a part or all of the retina, from its normal snug-fitting and clinging relationship to the tissues back of it.

Sometimes just a little spot or area of the retina is separated from its neighboring structure. In other cases the whole retina may fall away. In extreme cases the retina drops in folds, like a fallen drapery curtain, and lies on the bottom of the back chamber of the eye.

Once I explained to a patient the nature and result of detatchment of the retina. In a day or two he came back to endorse most enthusiastically my diagnosis of his case. He said he figured out that if I as right, by standing on his head he could see. He opened the back door of his barn, stood on his head, and, sure enough, he said he could see the woods a mile away!

Almost all cases of detatchment of the retina are associated with near sightedness. Such eyes are apt to be unusually large and more liable to certain abnormalities than other eyes.

Injuries, such as hard blows with the fist, occassionally cause detachment. I doubt if heavy lifting is often responsible for this trouble. It is sometimes alleged to be.

Bleeding back of the retina, or a growth, may push it away from its position.

Operative measures are frequently necessary to give relief.

Answers To Health Queries.

J. M. Q.—Due to smoking, I am nervous. What can I do to stop this smoking habit?

A.—Will-power is is necessary to overcome this habit. If this fails, you should try having your throat painted with a two per cent solution of silver nitrate and smoke immediately after.

Mrs. J. F. Y. Q.—Would Epsom salts cure neuritis? Would having the tonsils out help?

A.—It might help in some instances, after the source of infection has been located and your doctor prescribes for you. Yes, if they are diseased, since the tonsils are often a source of infection. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

E. P. F. Q.—What do you advise for thin, brittle finger nails?

A.—This is usually due to some constitutional disturbance. Try rubbing a cold cream into the nails at night before retiring and pay attention to your general health. For further particulars send a self addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

SPEAKS IN RURAL SECTION.

F. L. Skaith, superintendent of schools at Gower, Mo., who will speak on "The Rural Teacher" in the rural section of the teachers meeting, is a young but prominent member of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association.

Mr. Skaith is only 30 years old, having been born at Council Bluffs, Ia., on August 2, 1896. He received kindergarten and elementary schooling at Council Bluffs and Neely School, St. Joseph, and was graduated from the teacher training department of the high school at Albany. His college work he took in the Maryville State Teachers' College, the University of Missouri and William Jewell College at Liberty.

He taught five years in the rural schools of Gentry and Buchanan counties, was superintendent of schools at Agency for four years, supervising principal of elementary schools at Liberty for one year, and has been superintendent of schools at Gower for two years.

In spite of his youth, Mr. Skaith served two years as president of the Buchanan County Teachers Association and five years as a member of the textbook commission in Buchanan county.

Tabloid in Orient Achieves Success

Manila, Oct. 13.—The Tribune published the first tabloid paper in the Orient this week and it achieved immediate popularity. It is modelled carefully along the pattern already developed in the United States and is being used only for the Sunday issues of the Tribune. It is likely to have several imitators in cities of the Far East before the end of the year.

Soloist Here Tomorrow Adds Personality to Vocal Talent

STANLEY DEACON.

Stanley Deacon, soloist with the Kansas City Little Symphony Orchestra here tomorrow night, is a baritone whose exceptional equipment places him well to the fore of those American artists who are making contemporary music history. He is equally at home in opera, oratorio and recital.

Deacon first attracted public attention at the age of 9, when he began singing as alto soloist in St. Peter's Episcopal Church, one of the largest in Chicago. He was leading baritone for three seasons with the Boston Opera and for one season with the Century Opera. For three seasons he was "guest artist" with the Kansas City Opera Company.

Deacon's voice is of ample range and rich smoothness, but the quality which has won him a rapidly increasing popularity is a likable personality and that intangible thing known as stage "presence."

A few recent comments about this young singer follow:

Chibago Tribune: Mr. Deacon's voice is both rich and expressive. His singing of the Invocation by Peri was a performance in which to take pride. —Edward Moore.

Chicago Herald-Examiner: Mr. Deacon, a well known figure in local concert halls, showed as reasons for his popularity, a rich tone, clear and expressive diction and a knowledge of style and tradition.—Glenn Dillard Gunn.

Chicago Evening American: Mr. Deacon's voice is resonant and agreeable, especially sympathetic in demiteinte.—Herman Devries.

Chicago Daily News: Mr. Deacon, since he was last heard here has developed the wide range and warm quality of his voice. There is ease and style in his singing.—Maurice Rosenfeld.

Chicago Post: Mr. Deacon sang well. There was appreciation for the music and the tone was smoothly sustained.—Karlton Hackett.

Boston Post: Mr. Deacon surprised even his many friends by his histrionic ability and eye to characterization. Vocally and otherwise his Tonio was worthy of a Metropolitan performance.

Kansas City Times: Mr. Deacon's stage presence is a refreshing and blithesome thing: his audiences fall in love first and listen later.

Kansas City Journal: Mr. Deacon "stopped the show" so great was the enthusiasm he aroused.

Burlington Junction

J. Howard Thompson, Correspondent.

The annual service day for the high school was held last Saturday, and netted the high school something more than a hundred dollars. The entire student body was active on that day with any thing that would bring in money. Some washed windows, some sold pop-corn and candy, some shined shoes and many were engaged in serving lunch, consisting of sandwiches, coffee, doughnuts and pie, to the public. It was a day greatly enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller's family cow was taken suddenly ill in the pasture near the home in the east part of town last Saturday noon, and for some time it was thought she would not recover. The veterinarian was hastily called, and diagnosed her trouble as poison from the grass she had been eating. He soon relieved her suffering, and put her on her feet again.

Rev. J. Howard Thompson, and wife were in Maryville, Monday, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Moore. While there Mr. Thompson attended a committee meeting, to devise plans by which proposition number 4 could be defeated on November 2. Mr. Thompson is a member of that committee, in and for Nodaway Township.

All services at both churches in Burlington Junction were largely attended last Sunday. It was the first Sunday for a number of weeks that it did not rain during the church hour.

Mrs. C. W. Ferguson was in Maryville last Monday attending the prohibition committee meeting of which she is a member, representing Burlington Junction, and Nodaway Township. She went over on the morning train, and returned in the afternoon with Rev. and Mrs. J. Howard Thompson.

The grand jury took a recess from its arduous labors last Friday evening, thus permitting its members to spend the week-end with their families at home. There are two members from this community, who are Fletcher Dalby, and Samuel Jones. They will return this week to finish their work.

Charles Miller and John Greeley are both in Maryville this week, serving on the petit jury. They had a respite from labor on Monday, but were called by the court to be ready for service at nine o'clock, Tuesday morning.

John Rhodes was a business visitor in the County Seat Monday afternoon. Mr. Rhodes is Burlington Junction's hustling Real Estate man.

There were radio parties everywhere last Sunday afternoon, "tuning in" on the ball game in New York between the New York Yankees, and the St. Louis Cardinals. When the announcement came that the Cardinals had won the world series, the rejoicing was exuberant.

Miss Carolyn Frankum, of Southern California, is here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Corken. She will return to her home in California this week. She and Mr. Corken are cousins.

The recent rains have again rendered the roads across the river bottom west of town impassable and people wishing to cross to this side of the river had to detour, on Monday, by way of Skidmore, to get to Burlington Junction, or Maryville.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garrett of Clearmont were in town last Monday afternoon, on their way home from Maryville, where Mrs. Garrett had gone to attend a committee meeting of which she is a member.

Jerry Olds of Galena, Kans., came last Friday, and is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Walters. He will return to his home next Sunday morning. Mr. Olds is the father of Mrs. Walters, and this is the first visit he has made at the home of his daughter for many months.

J. O. Stafford, living one mile west of town, was in Maryville last Monday afternoon, on business.

John Boyer, who suffered a compound fracture of his right leg at the ankle joint, last Friday evening, is suffering a great deal of pain as a result of the injury, but is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Miss Marguerite Ellsworth of Quitman, was an over Sunday guest with Mrs. Helms and Mrs. William Cornell. Miss Ellsworth is a sister of these two.

Grant Taylor and family, of Clarinda, came Saturday afternoon, and remained at the home of his mother, Mrs. S. C. Taylor, who has been confined to her room for many weeks with sickness, over Sunday.

Mrs. Sara Friend, who has been at the home of her son, Willard Friend, in Braddyville, Iowa, for the past four weeks returned to her home here in town last week.

In voting on proposition number 4 at the coming election, in order to defeat it all that is needed, is to scratch the word yes, and leave the word "no" untouched. We are hoping that Nodaway Township will be unanimous in its defeat. If it should carry it will take the power of enforcement out of the hands of the State Constabulary, and place it in the hands of the Federal Officers only, a very disastrous thing, indeed.

Mrs. Helen Browning is in Kansas City this week in attendance upon the sessions of the Grand Lodge or the Order of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Browning is Worthy Matron of the local chapter, and is representing her local lodge in the Grand Lodge.

The Community Meeting, which was to have been held at the Pleasant Valley School House two miles southwest of town, has been postponed to a later date on account of the bad condition of the roads. Definite announcement will be made later regarding the meeting.

William Aesdale, senior member of the firm of Aesdale and Monk, was in Maryville Monday afternoon on business. He returned home in the evening of the same day.

The public sale of Benjamin Booher, held Tuesday at his home east of town, was very largely attended, there being more than 150 men present. Pence Brothers had charge of the selling, and everything seemed to bring good prices. The most noticeable thing that happened was that almost every buyer wrote his personal check for the amount of his purchase, showing that the country is not yet bankrupt. Farmers, as nearly all the buyers were farmers, still have money in the banks with which they are doing business.

Fred Booher of Norton, Kansas, son of Benjamin Booher, came in Saturday night from Omaha, where he was on business to assist his father with the sale, held on Tuesday. He will remain to visit for a few days before his return home.

The City Market, recently purchased by Mr. Draper of Red Oak, Iowa, is being closed out, and Mr. Draper is shipping what he desires to his place of business in his home town, and will sell the rest at a bargain. That gives Main Street the only empty building on the street. Doubtless it will soon be occupied by some other firm.

Mrs. Grover Sparks visited school Friday morning.

Verle and Howard Keith picked apples Monday for Mr. McKee.

The river bridge over the Hundred and Two river, is out, east of our school. The rain has almost made the roads impossible to travel over.

We will have no school October 14 and 15, as this is the time for teachers meeting of the North West district, which will be held at Maryville.

The "A" and "C" classes have been writing compositions in Agriculture on the different breeds of beef cattle.

Mildred and Harry Byrd, Francis and Lester Hyder and Archie Davison were absent from school Monday.

The "A" reading class is reading "The Vision of Sir Launfal." They have just completed reading the book, "Good Citizenship" as an outside reading.

Eldon Baker was absent from school Tuesday on account of sickness.

The school observed "Columbus Day" this week by different talks given by the seventh and eighth grade pupils.

G. O. P. Convention Opens at Providence

Providence, R. I., Oct. 13.—With no seat in the United States Senate to be filled, most of the interest centered around local contests as Rhode Island Republicans opened their convention here today.

The G. O. P. state ticket, with one or two exceptions, was expected to be the same as in 1924. Aram J. Pothier, Rhode Island's 72-year-old governor, has announced his intention of seeking re-election, and indications were he would receive no opposition in the convention.

Lieut. Gov. Nathaniel Smith also is expected to seek re-election.

Congressmen Clark Burdick of the first district and Richard S. Aldrich of the second district were expected to be renamed for Congress. Louis Monast, who was defeated two years ago by Congressman Jeremiah O'Connell, probably will be the Republicans' choice for the third district.

Midnight Sun Eclipse to Happen Next Year

Upsala, Oct. 13.—A unique astronomical phenomenon, a total eclipse of the midnight sun, is forecasted for northern Sweden in the almanac for 1927, which has just been published at the university center here.

The event will take place on June 29, when the sun is visible all night north of the Arctic circle.

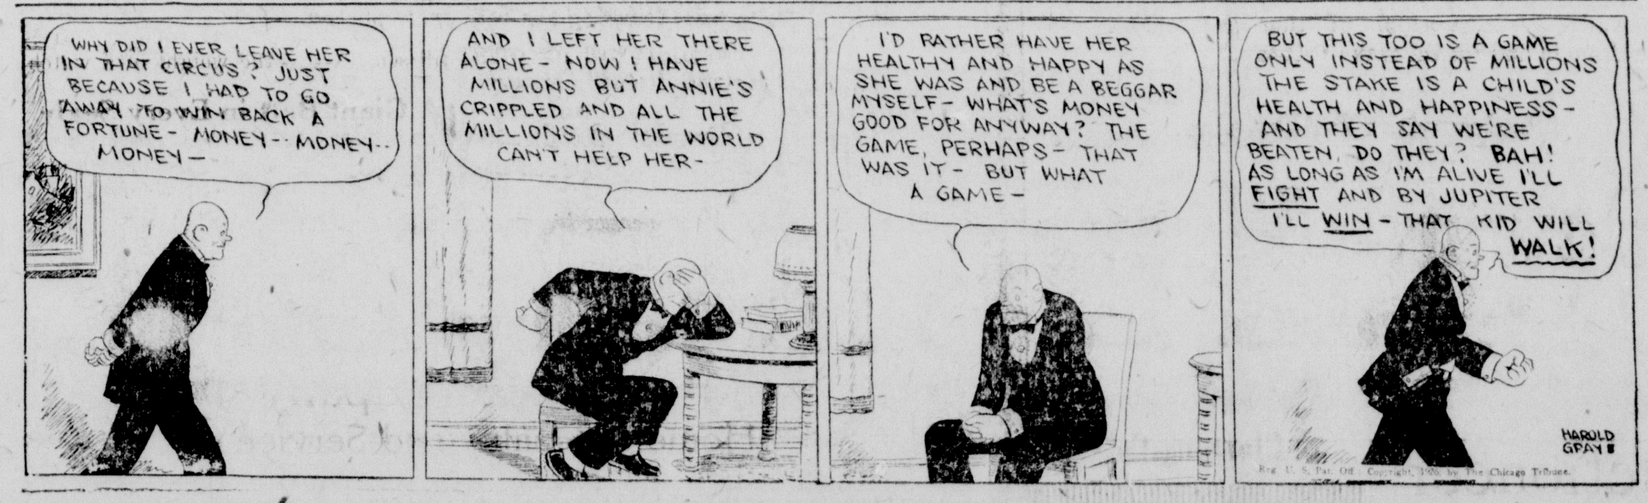
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: A New and Bigger Game



WHY DID I EVER LEAVE HER IN THAT CIRCUS? JUST BECAUSE I HAD TO GO AWAY TO WIN BACK A FORTUNE - MONEY - MONEY - MONEY -
AND I LEFT HER THERE ALONE - NOW I HAVE MILLIONS BUT ANNIE'S CRIPPLED AND ALL THE MILLIONS IN THE WORLD CAN'T HELP HER -
I'D RATHER HAVE HER HEALTHY AND HAPPY AS SHE WAS AND BE A BEGGAR MYSELF - WHAT'S MONEY GOOD FOR ANYWAY? THE GAME, PERHAPS - THAT WAS IT - BUT WHAT A GAME -
BUT THIS TOO IS A GAME ONLY INSTEAD OF MILLIONS THE STAKE IS A CHILD'S HEALTH AND HAPPINESS - AND THEY SAY WE'RE BEATEN, DO THEY? BAH! AS LONG AS I'M ALIVE I'LL FIGHT AND BY JUPITER I'LL WIN - THAT KID WILL WALK!

BEARCATS TO MEET INDIANS

STRONG TEAM SCHEDULED FOR CONVENTION GAME.

LOST TO SPRINGFIELD

But Powerful Southwest Teachers Were Unable To Score Touchdown Against Cape Girardeau Eleven.

Football interest for Maryville and surrounding country this week will be centered around the game Friday afternoon between the State Teachers College Bearcats and the Indians of the Cape Girardeau Teachers College. This will be the first conference game of the season for the Bearcats, although it will be their third game this year.

The game Friday will be one of the outstanding events on the program for the teachers of Northwest Missouri who will be assembled here for their annual meeting. Nothing else is scheduled on the Teachers' Association program for Friday afternoon.

The Indians will come to Maryville suffering from one conference defeat in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Last week they were defeated at Cape Girardeau by the powerful Bears of the Southwest Missouri Teachers College at Springfield. The score of the game was 6 to 0. This does not represent a Springfield touchdown, however, but is a score gained by two field goals, one in the second and one in the fourth quarter.

Indicates Strong Defense.

All of which means that the Cape Girardeau team is a strong one defensively, for reports from Springfield indicate that the Bears have a scoring machine. When any team can hold the Bears to no touchdown, that team is one to be feared.

The Bearcats are being pointed for this game. Not only will they be playing before a large crowd of alumni, but they will be opening the conference season, and theirs is an ambition to win the coveted M. I. A. A. championship. Last year they were successful in the conference, taking the flag after a heetic race in which they did not lose a game. The year before they tied for the championship with the Kirksville Bulldogs. And now Coaches Lawrence and Jones are pointing their charges toward another successful year.

From the two games which the Bearcats have played this year, indications are that the homecoming crowd of Friday will not be disappointed. In their first game of the year at St. Joseph against the Missouri Wesleyan College team, the Green and White showed a last-quarter scoring punch, and won, 13 to 0. Last Saturday they duplicated this score in a mud-wallowing with the Kirksville Osteopaths. This game last week showed that the Bearcats can score under difficulties. Paying no heed to the treacherous footing, they ran rife through the Rams. Therefore the opinion that they can be expected to do better with dry turf under their cleats.

Elaborate Plans Made.

Elaborate plans have been made for the game Friday. There will be additional seats in the bleachers for the crowd which is expected to attend, and a number of stunts have been planned. There will be exhibitions by boys' and girls' pep squads from the College, and sophomores at the institution have indicated that the freshman will display their green caps in a snake dance between halves. A number of Maryville business houses have indicated that they will send representatives to the game.

John Bunn, a coach at the University of Kansas, will referee the game Friday. Bunn is not new to Maryville football and basketball fans, who are unanimous in their praise of his work on the gridiron and on the court. The game will be umpired by "Tad" Reid, coach at the Warrensburg State Teachers College.

Authorities at the College have indicated that the game will start promptly at 3 o'clock, and those in charge of the Teachers' Association meetings have pledged themselves to close all sessions of the convention in ample time for the teachers to reach the stands beforehand.

Harmony

Word was received Wednesday morning of the death of Garfield Hooker in an automobile accident in Indiana where he lived. He was a brother of Mrs. A. Lawson and was well known in this vicinity. For a couple of years he made his home with Mr. Lawsons. No particulars of the accident were given in the telegram and the word did not reach the friends here till after the funeral had occurred.

Another heavy rain fell in this vicinity early Saturday morning. We didn't need it in our business, as the roads were getting fairly passable.

R. V. McKee and family took supper with the family of Elmer Young over near Maryville last Tuesday evening. Other friends of the family from a distance were present also.

Ova Heflin and family were Sunday dinner guests at the home of B. K. Lewis and wife.

The muddy roads again interfered with the service Sunday morning. Sunday School was the only service held and the attendance was rather small.

Our library unit will be returned soon as the books are all in, and we may expect a new set of books soon. However as these are returned and sent to us by freight it will be a matter of a couple of weeks before we receive the new ones.

A great deal of interest was taken in the world series of baseball games in this neighborhood.

T. E. Porter, John Green and M. A. Brown attended the display of baby beeves at St. Joseph last Wednesday.

Miss Hazel Cox, who teacher music in the public schools of New Hampton visited home folks the last of the week.

Harmony School Notes.

The class in Citizenship is preparing a "Slogan" for use on a bill board that will be placed on the campus.

A very successful meeting of the Board of Education was held last Tuesday evening. Routine business was about all that came before the board, all members of the board were present.

Mr. Marcell appeared before the board at the last meeting in an attempt to interest them in the purchase of a moving picture machine. Visual instruction is coming to be recognized as a leading method in education now a days. Nothing definite, however, was done with Mr. Marcell's proposition.

Mrs. Ford made a flying trip to Maryville on school business last Tuesday.

Through the kindness of Mr. Ford we listened to the world series of ball games at St. Louis last week. Some of our folks are ardent fans.

The boys of the basketball team accompanied by coach Ford went to Pickering to play a postponed game in the schedule, and the Pickering team played a returned game on our court Friday evening. The Pickering team won both games and in the last game Harmony was unable to get its scoring machine started but the visitors scored with monotonous regularity. Our percent at present is .250 with two more games to play, one with Conception at that place and one with Ravenwood on the home court.

Leon Brown, Oral Porter and Miss Thelma Green, who were all feeders of baby beeves attended the display at St. Joseph last week. Leon Brown was a member of the stock judging team from Nodaway County. They all feel well repaid and expect to do better next time.

Weekly Meeting Is Held at High School

Members of the Demosthenean Literary society of the Maryville high school held their weekly meeting this morning at which time a program was given. The program follows: Clarinet solo, John Henry Heath; sport news, Edward Clary; current events, Harold Trueblood; poem, Robert Carlson; current events, Elwood Williams; talk, Buster King, Donald Logan and Junior Gray.

OUR COLLEGE

What The Students Out On The Hill Are Doing

Forrest Howland, a graduate of the Maryville High School and a freshman at the State Teachers College, was chosen head cheer leader for the institution at a meeting of the association at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Howland served in this capacity while attending the local high school.

Others nominated for the office were Cleo T. Wyman of Grant City, Raymond Ferguson of Burlington Junction, and Frank J. Klein of Cameron. These three will be assistant cheer leaders.

Frank J. Klein, one of the assistant yell leaders, is an interesting personality. In the German, Klein means "short." But this Klein claims to be all-American, and certainly he does not live up to the Teutonic interpretation. He stands about as high as a telephone pole, and is about as slender as a football goal post.

On the other hand, Cleo Wyman, another yell leader, is about as heavy as an elephont. He is a member of Battery C, holding the rating of sergeant. As such, he is the heaviest non-commissioned officer in the 128th Field Artillery.

Sophomores of the high school department at the College are seemingly proud of their rating. All are wearing ribbons of old rose and green, the class colors.

The girls' pep squad at the College is planning a "stunt" for the game with Cape Girardeau Friday. This organization has met daily for the last week, and it is withholding as a secret what it intends to "pull off."

A burst of applause at the weekly assembly this morning followed the announcement that there will be no College classes tomorrow and Friday afternoons. Then the school will turn out to entertain visiting teachers from Northwest Missouri, here for their annual meeting.

The 8 and 9 o'clock classes tomorrow morning will meet, however.

A short meeting of the faculty of the College was held this morning. At that time, matters concerning entertainment of visitors for the teachers' meeting were discussed. Each faculty member of the institution will have something to do with the reception and entertainment of the visitors.

Faculty members of the College are beginning to check up on delinquent students. An announcement was made today for all high school department teachers to report those students who are below standard. Teachers in the College report that the number of below-par students is unusually small this fall.

U. G. Whiffen, manual arts instructor at the College, has organized a pep squad of boys which will be known as the "Cat's Claws." This organization has student officers, the president being Clarence Bush. Irvin Gubser is vice-president, and Raymond Ferguson is secretary-treasurer. At a meeting Monday night, the organization initiated a number of new recruits, and it plans to sponsor a freshman "stunt" between halves of the Maryville-Cape Girardeau game Friday.

Presidents of all College organizations will meet at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, according to an announcement made today by Burdette Yeo, president of the student association. At this time, activity plans for the year will be made.

No student at the College may participate in more than three activities or hold more than one major and one minor office or three minor offices. This ruling has been made by the student council and is calculated to see that no student is burdened with activities to the neglect of his studies.

Former Elmo Pastor to St. Joseph Church

Today's St. Joseph Gazette had the following about the Rev. Edgar O. Wells, formerly pastor of Elmo:

"The Rev. Edgar O. Wells, the oldest member of the Missouri Methodist conference has been named pastor of Oakland Park Methodist church, Twentieth and Highly streets. The Rev. Mr. Wells has been pastor of the Methodist church at Elmo, Mo., for the last two years, and during more than 36 years in the ministry, has served many charges in towns near St. Joseph. He has held pastorates outside of St. Joseph for the last nine years and prior to that he was pastor of South Park Church for nine years.

"Mr. Wells preached his first sermon in Missouri, December 1, 1889, at Bolckow. The Rev. and Mrs. Wells celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary this month. Mr. Wells is 78 years old and Mrs. Wells is 75 years old. They have removed to St. Joseph from Elmo and are at home at 2701 South Nineteenth street. Mr. Wells will assume his duties as pastor of Oakland Park Church Sunday."

Four Others Are Given State M's

Photographs of Those Recently Awarded Letters Appeared in Tuesday's Edition of K. C. Journal.

Photographs of State Teachers College students appeared in the Tuesday edition of the Kansas City Journal-Post. The young women whose photographs were shown have been awarded state letters for the completion of athletic programs.

They are, Miss Lucile Snyder, Miss Marie Woods, Miss Margaret Quinlin, and Miss Mae Gannon, who now is teaching at Fairfax.

Leaves for Florida.

Mrs. R. E. Snodgrass accompanied by her husband, the Rev. R. E. Snodgrass, to St. Joseph today on his way to Jacksonville, Florida, to conduct revival meetings. Mrs. Snodgrass spent the day with her sister, Mrs. Barr.

William Job, sr., went to St. Joseph on business today.

ADDRESSES TO BE BEST EVER

SPEAKING PROGRAM FOR TEACHERS UNUSUALLY ATTRACTIVE.

SEVERAL "BIG GUNS"

Reed, Dunn, Frasier, Germane, Lee, Ferguson, Van Cleve, Neale Well Known Among Educators.

When the ninth annual meeting of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers Association opens at the State Teachers College tomorrow morning, a galaxy of speakers such as never before have been heard at a district meeting will address the 800 or more visiting educators.

These addresses are in addition to two concerts by the Kansas City Little Symphony Orchestra, with Stanley Deacon as soloist, a conference football game between Maryville and Cape Girardeau, and "The Black Pirate," latest motion picture produced by Douglas Fairbanks.

A "Who's Who" of the speakers follows:

Reed.

In Representative Daniel Alden Reed, the committee in charge of the program for the teachers meeting has obtained one of the most active friends of education in the national Congress. Representative Reed is co-author of the Curtis-Reed bill to establish a national Department of Education, with a secretary to sit in the President's cabinet.

Mr. Reed was born at Sheridan, Chautauqua County, New York, on September 15, 1875. He was graduated from Cornell University in 1898 with the degree of LL. B. and began the practice of law at Dunkirk, N. Y., his present home. He was attorney for the exeise department of the state of New York for five years, and in 1918-19 was sent on a special mission to France for the United States government. He was elected to Congress in 1919 from the forty-third New York district and has been re-elected for each term since that time. He is a Republican.

Mr. Reed is well known as a lecturer on commercial and civic subjects and in 1922 was with Redpath Chautauquas. He is the author of "Business Men's Luncheons." He will speak at the opening session tomorrow morning.

Frasier.

Dr. George Willard Frasier, who will speak at Friday morning's general session, is known as the youngest man in the United States to be chosen president of a teachers college. He has been head of the Colorado State Teachers College at Greeley, Col., since April 10, 1924.

Doctor Frasier was born September 21, 1890, at Marlette, Mich. His degrees include an A. B. from Michigan State Normal College, 1916; A. M. from Leland Stanford University, 1919; Ph. D., from Teachers College, Columbia University, 1922; and LL.D., from Colorado College.

He is a life member of the National Education Association. In 1923 he was president of the Normal Schools and Teachers College section of that organization, and he is now a member of the N. E. A., committees on child labor, cooperation with the world federation, and courses necessary for the training of elementary principals. In addition, he is a member of the standards and survey committee of the American Association of Teachers Colleges, of the council of the National Economic League, the national board of directors of Camp Fire Girls, and the board of directors of the Colorado Tuberculosis Society.

Doctor Frasier is the author of "The Control of City School Finances," joint author of "An Introduction to Education," and a contributor to various educational journals. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, and Pi Kappa Delta.

Josh Lee.

Josh Lee, lecturer, humorist and soldier poet, who gives his address, "The Pot of Gold," at the closing general session of the Teachers Meeting Saturday morning is head of the public speaking department of the University of Oklahoma. He is also author of a text book in public speaking.

In 1916 he won the national oratorical championship over fourteen hundred college orators representing every state of the Union.

PRESIDENT OF TEACHERS HAS RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT.

SPEAKS HERE FRIDAY

Early Work In Indiana Attracts Much Attention.—Warrensburg S. T. C. Grows Under His Direction.

Dr. Eldo Lewis Hendricks, who will give an address at the Friday morning general session of the teachers meeting, is president of the Warrensburg State Teachers College and president of the Missouri State Teachers Association. He has been known as one of Missouri's leading educators for almost a quarter of a century.

During a period of progress in the whole field of education, Dr. Hendricks' work in school administration has been such as to attract the attention and commendation of educators throughout all the country.

Dr. Hendricks was born in Rossville, Clinton County, Indiana, in 1866. After obtaining his degree from Franklin College, he acted as county superintendent of Johnson County for four years. In 1899 he received a Master's Degree from Indiana University. Immediately following his work in the University, Doctor Hendricks served as superintendent of the Mitchell schools for two years. In 1902 he took up the same work at Delphi. It was here that he began the work which later was to attract the attention of many prominent educators. The Delphi schools were reorganized into a superior system. One feature of his work was the development of the largest group of school gardens in the state. His work made a profound impression on Superintendent Kendall of the Indianapolis schools, and he was invited to become a member of the Indianapolis administrative staff.

Goes to Indianapolis.

After seven years at Delphi, during which time he had evolved a better and more complete school system for the town, Doctor Hendricks resigned and became a supervisor of the Lowell and adjoining schools in Indianapolis. It was at this time that his "History and Civil Government of Indianapolis" appeared, and was immediately chosen as a text for use in the High Schools of the state. Then, in 1909-10 he went to the University of Chicago, where he worked on problems of school administration and did research work in history. The following year he was elected as head of the history department in the Normal school at Warrensburg, Missouri.

In 1915 fire swept through the school. Building, books, and laboratories were destroyed. During the reconstruction period which followed, Doctor Hendricks served as president. Since 1915, five buildings have been restored to the campus, and the college demonstration farm has been doubled in acreage. These buildings are all durable white limestone, fireproof, and completely modern. After his entrance as president, the school changed from a Normal offering two years of work to a college with four year courses, accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges. In 1915 no student completed four years of college work at Warrensburg, while in 1925 two-hundred-forty-six received degrees. This is the largest number of degrees ever given from any state teachers' college in the United States. The degrees of Warrensburg, as of the college here, are recognized by all standardizing agencies. Since Doctor

Palmer College Dean to Lead Discussion

Dr. D. B. Atkinson Is Hoosier By Birth, But Came To Missouri From Wyoming.

Dr. D. B. Atkinson, who will lead the round table discussions in the College department of the teachers meeting Friday afternoon, is dean and professor of education at Palmer College, Albany, Mo.

Dr. Atkinson boasts of being a Hoosier by birth, and he received his early education in the public school of Indiana. He began teaching when he was 17 years old and attended summer normals for three years. He did his college work in Union Christian College of Indiana and his post-graduate work in the University of Chicago.

For seven years he was professor of Latin and dean of the Normal School of his alma mater. For ten years he was president of the Jireh College, in Wyoming, and professor of education in the University of Wyoming one summer and served as a member of the state board of education of Wyoming for one term, being appointed to this position by Governor Kendrick. He was a member of the board of education of the Christian Church for four years.

Dr. Atkinson has been dean of Palmer College for the last seven years. He has been instructor in teachers' institutes in Indiana and Wyoming and has delivered addresses in the college section of the Indiana State Teachers' Association and also in the Wyoming State Teachers' Association. He has held membership for a number of years in the National Education Association.

Committee Member Is S. T. C. Graduate

C. T. Richards, a member of the executive committee of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association, is another graduate of the State Teachers College here. Mr. Richards now is superintendent of the public schools at Pattonsburg. He took two years of his high school work at Guilford and completed his academic work at the State Teachers College, after which he continued as a college student and was graduated with the degrees of A. B. and B. S. in education. He took graduate work at the University of Iowa.

Mr. Richards is a member of the College "M" Club, having played three years of basketball and three years of football, in both of which he was known as "Big Bill."

He taught one year in the rural schools of Nodaway county, one year as superintendent at Graham and two years as superintendent at Ravenwood. He is now in his third year as superintendent at Pattonsburg.

Mr. Richards married Miss Lola McNeel, who also was a State Teachers College athlete, a member of the Kittycat basketball team for two years and captain her last year.

HEADS ASSOCIATION.

Leslie G. Somerville, Nodaway County superintendent of schools, who is president of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association.

ASSOCIATION 9 YEARS OLD

ORGANIZED NOV. 1, 1917 AT NORMAL SCHOOL.

RICHARDSON SPONSOR

Albany Man Chosen First President—Organization Now Has About Two Thousand Members.

The Northwest Missouri Teachers Association was organized November 1, 1917 at what was then called the Fifth district normal school at Maryville.

A plan to have eight divisional districts in the state was made at the meeting of the state teachers association in 1917. These divisions would be each of the normal school districts and in St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph.

The resolutions to this effect were passed at the state meeting and a committee headed by former president Ira K. Richardson of the Fifth district normal school was appointed to organize the teachers in the fifth district. Dr. Richardson then appointed county and city superintendents of the district as delegates and the first meeting was held November 1, 1917, and the present organization was formed with constitution and by-laws drawn up.

The first officers were elected for the new organization under the adopted constitution on October 24, 1918. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, A. Boyd, Albany; first vice-president, George H. Beasley, Liberty; second vice-president, Dr. S. E. Davis, Maryville; third vice-president, Ella K. Sutton, Bethany; secretary, C. A. Hawkins, Maryville; treasurer, Elizabeth Brainerd, Trenton. The executive committee was composed of W. R. Lowry, Grant City; J. M. Gallatin, Chillicothe, and E. L. Birkhead, Gower.

Among the speakers at the first meeting were: Supt. H. B. Wilson of Topeka, Kan.; President, Cameron Harmon of Missouri Wesleyan College; P. P. Callaway, state inspector of high schools; Dr. S. E. Davis, now president of the Dillon, Mont. Normal School, and Superintendent J. J. Cammack of Kansas City.

The association has enjoyed a very healthy growth since its inception in 1917. There are now about two thousand teachers enrolled. Many of the teachers are expected to sign membership cards during the meeting here beginning tomorrow. One membership enrolls the holder in this association and the state and county associations and entitles him to School of Community, a state educational magazine published at Columbia.

While this association was organized in 1917, there had been an organization of teachers in this district for many years in the past. C. A. Hawkins was one of the past presidents of this organization and says that the organization was permitted to lapse for several years until the new association was formed nine years ago.

Is Visiting Here.

Ben F. Linville of Fresno, Calif., arrived last Thursday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Linville, near Skidmore. Mr. Linville has been located at Fresno for the last fifteen years. He visited in Maryville yesterday.

A WHO'S WHO OF OFFICERS

LESLIE G. SOMERVILLE HEADS TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

AN S. T. C. GRADUATE

Two Vice-Presidents and Treasurer Also Attend School Here.—Ziegler New Secretary.

Back in 1905 a certain school board in Mercer County, Missouri, announced to the patrons of the Painter rural school and its pupils that a young teacher, who signed his application as Leslie G. Somerville, had been hired to conduct their district educational institution during the coming winter.

This new instructor's application read something like this, listing the following qualifications:

"Born, 1886, elementary education procured in the rural schools of Mercer County, Missouri; attended high school at Mercer, Mo."

That is about all there was to the application, if it were so much as written down. Nowadays, should this same pedagog, now president of the Northwest Missouri Teachers' Association, be making application for a teaching position he would list the following in addition to the notes made for the benefit of the Painter school district:

Attended College Here.

"Completed high school education at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College (then known as the Normal); holder of a degree of Bachelor of Science in Education from the same school; graduate of the University of Missouri, at Columbia.

"Teaching experience: Five years of service in the Mercer county rural schools; taught in grades at Princeton, Mo.; one year as principal at Spickard, Mo.; left those schools for the Blythedaye, Mo., public school where he taught and acted as principal of a two-year high school for seven years, finally becoming superintendent of that school after it had been raised to a four-year high school; superintendent of the Clearmont high school during 1920-21, then appointed by Governor Arthur M. Hyde to take the place of Bert Cooper, resigned, as superintendent of schools in Nodaway county; elected superintendent of those schools in 1923.

"Member of the State Reading Circle board, which reads and judges books which are to be placed in the libraries of the Missouri schools."

Leech Also S. T. C. Graduate.

Howard Leech, first vice-president of the teachers organization, is a graduate of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, and last year was superintendent of the Rock Port, Mo., high school. He now is attending the University of Missouri, at Columbia, and will not attend this fall meeting of the association.

Miss Mary Green, second vice-president, has taught in the rural schools of this state. She now is attending the fall quarter of school at the State Teachers College here.

Charles Myers, treasurer, is superintendent of schools at Hamilton, Mo. He holds a degree of B. S. in Education from the college here, and now is working toward a masters degree from the University of Missouri. He has taught in rural schools, has been principal of a third class school and superintendent of two first class schools, at Jamesport and Union Star.

Ziegler Active In Program Work.

L. E. Ziegler, superintendent of the Maryville public schools, is deserving of much credit, with Mr. Somerville, for the work of preparing the program. Mr. Ziegler was named, only a short time ago, following a meeting of the executive committee, to the office of secretary of the teachers' association after Dr. Fred Keller, former secretary, had left the college here. Superintendent Ziegler is a graduate of the Fayette, Mo., public schools and of Central College, at that place; holder of a B. S. in Education degree from the University of Missouri; and is now working toward a master's degree from Columbia University, of New York City.

Executive committee members, include, D. D. Hooper, chairman, superintendent of schools in Andrew County; C. T. Richards, superintendent of the Pattonsburg public schools; Edward Adams, superintendent of the Tarkio public schools, and the president and secretary of the organization.

NEATNESS AND ORDER

One of the first things taught in Boston University's new course for prospective brides is that they should be "orderly but not neat."

Here is a distinction that deserves a little elucidation. Neatness is a fine quality as long is it isn't overdone. The neatness which the matrimonial students are advised against is the old-fashioned sort, still found in occasional homes, which insists on everything being so spick-and-span that people are afraid to touch or use it. Thus it makes life miserable for men who disarrange anything or drop cigaret ashes on the floor, or leave a trace of mud on a rug.

Order is having things where they belong. It is a matter of efficiency rather than religion or morals. It is as desirable to have an orderly system in a house as in an office or factory. Even husbands and children may be reasonably expected to do their part toward keeping clothes, furniture and tools in the proper place, instead of scattering them all over the house, so that the next fellow who wants them will be able to find them.

Almost any man will agree to that, in principle at least. Men can usually understand and sympathize with order, whether they practice it or not. But the neatness which puts a "tidy" on the back of every chair and regards any displacement of it as a tragedy, that is something which a normal man hates from the bottom of his soul.

A man wants convenience and comfort in his home. Order makes his home life convenient, but neatness may make it uncomfortable.

Men incline to be orderly but not neat. Too many women incline to be neat but not orderly.

A LOSS TO JOURNALISM

The death of Ralph Stout, managing editor of the Kansas City Star, is not only a great loss to the Star but to journalism everywhere. Mr. Stout was a great editor devoted to his profession, conscientious in his ideals and sincere in his efforts to deliver to the people a worthy product. He had a great deal to do with the success of the Star and he will be missed by a large circle of newspaper friends throughout the State of Missouri.

It's all right to pray for rain, of course. But the people who have been praying for rain in Kansas lately are probably wishing they hadn't prayed quite so hard.

What Other Editors Say

Missouri Showed 'Em!

What a final game it was, and what a series! Anybody's game and anybody's series until the last man was out. Babe Ruth's three home runs in one game, Alexander's return to power and the emergency call on him at the critical moment in the seventh inning of the last game. Lester Bell and Tommy Thevenow and the others in the hero list. How the fans will talk about them the winter through and speculate on what they will do next season!

At last the pennant comes west of the Mississippi, and all Missouri joins St. Louis in rejoicing that the East at last has been shown. Through one of the most grueling fights in baseball the Cards proved their supremacy in the National League. Now they have conquered the runaway club of the American League.

We salute victors and vanquished, two great ball clubs, worthy of the honor that is theirs!—Kansas City Star.

The remarks of my father rather indicated that he thought if I did not change my ways I would come on the town.—Calvin Coolidge.

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTER

By Charles P. Stewart,
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—Assistant Secretary of State J. Butler Wright is the man who keeps tab for President Coolidge on the congratulatory messages it's considered polite to send to the heads of other governments. Messages are called for by birthdays, national anniversaries, and like joyful occasions which fall on fixed dates, so that they can be foreseen with certainty.

Yes, they can be foreseen with certainty if one has ever heard of them. Their number is tremendous and very few of them are of the slightest importance except in the various countries to which, respectively, they are peculiar.

Who can tell, off-hand, on what day, in what month and year Bolivia declared her independence, or the date of President Masaryk's birthday?

Well, Butler Wright doesn't try to carry it all around in his head. He keeps a list of "days," arranged chronologically, each opposite its appropriate date, with a few words descriptive of what it's all about, so that the congratulations can be felicitously worded.

Day by day he glances at his calendar and tips off the president, after which (this on the q. t.) he writes his congratulations for him.

Since the White House drafted Charles L. Cooke, who formerly was the state department's "officer in charge of ceremonies," Wright has been the department's specialist on questions of international etiquet in general.

For instance, he always is on hand to meet and greet visiting foreign notabilities when they arrive in Washington.

He does this kind of thing well. He knows what to say and do. He understands how to meet social emergencies. He's imposing. He takes naturally to a silk hat, a frock coat and spats.

Removing Carbon~ ~ Grinding Valves Grinding Valves ~ ~ ~Removing Carbon

-how much longer must these twin evils pick your pocket and mar your motoring enjoyment

TWO items alone—grinding valves and removing carbon—account for at least one-half the up-keep cost of the ordinary automobile . . . Every owner knows that . . .

The Willys-Knight Great Six wipes out all this expense . . . in its Knight sleeve-valve engine—patented, exclusive—there are no valves to grind—no carbon to remove.

Carbon cannot harm the engine of the Willys-Knight Great Six. Hence, carbon troubles, and the expense and inconvenience of remedying them, never enter into its owner's calculation . . .

In fact, the presence of carbon in the Willys-Knight sleeve-valve engine only serves to seal compression, to prevent waste of power . . . It is a desirable agent. Instead of hampering or harming, it actually helps this engine to perform.

Willys-Knight Great Six prices from $1750 to $2495. Prices f.o.b. factory and specifications subject to change without notice. The Willys Finance Plan offers unusually attractive credit terms. Willys-Overland, Inc., Toledo, Ohio. Willys-Overland Sales Co., Ltd., Toronto, Canada.

Concrete pavement gives greater value per dollar than any other type

Kansas City's Famous "Covered Wagon" Trails Are Now Concrete Paved

A little, old frontier town—Westport Landing, on the river—has grown into Kansas City, Missouri, "The Heart of America." Blanketed Indians on ponies, westbound trains of covered wagons, have given place to the pounding, hurrying motor traffic of a twentieth century metropolis.

Portland cement concrete pavement has done its share to make this growth possible.

McGee Street Trafficway, for instance, must carry 25,000 trucks, busses, passenger cars every day. This important thoroughfare was paved with concrete twelve years ago, laid as a foundation for a "wearing surface" which was never put on. This "foundation" has acceptably met the requirements of the heavy traffic with little expenditure for maintenance.

Kansas City now has more than 3,175,000 square yards of concrete streets.

Clean, handsome streets, big city streets and fine residence streets—safe for traffic in all weather. That's what concrete paving means to Kansas City, or any other city.

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

MRS. PRENTISS sees lights mysteriously appear and disappear in the HEATH household next door one night and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog with the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to Myra's fortune, and BUNNY MOORE, vivacious, golden-haired, to whom suspicion points because of her refusal to answer questions.

Myra Heath was peculiar: She never used cosmetics, never wore colors. She had a mania for collecting glass, and it was a rare old whisky bottle from her collection that the murderer used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet and nearby was a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath." Strangest of all, she was heavily made up and garbed in gay colors.

The peculiar thing about Heath's disappearance is that all the windows and doors had been locked on the inside the night before and were found that way in the morning. Finger prints of Bunny Moore and Inman were found on the bottle.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime, and others. Some believe Heath the murderer. Anderson disagrees. TODHUNTER BUCK, nephew of Mrs. Prentiss and in love with Bunny, suggests to Cunningham that Heath also may have been murdered.

EMMA, a waitress in the Heath home, tells of seeing Bunny ascend the stairs about the time of the murder, carrying her vanity case. Later Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Perry Heath telling her Inman is guilty. Bunny breaks down and faints under a grilling by DETECTIVE MOTT, who makes up his mind that she is guilty. Inman confides to Buck that he saw Bunny creeping the stairs after the murder, and Mott, questions all the servants and tells them to keep silent.

Cunningham gets a note from Anderson and goes to his house where Perry Heath suddenly appears out of the night and begins to talk.

Anderson invites Cunningham to his house and there, while waiting for his host, Cunningham is suddenly confronted by Perry Heath, who disappears as mysteriously as he had appeared. Shortly afterward, Anderson comes in, and he reproaches Cunningham for letting Heath get away.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXV.

"Oh, I suppose it was just the old story of two men and one woman. I don't think the baby girl was on the scene at all. I believe if she was seen coming or going on the stairs, it was after the whole show was over. I believe that Heath and his wife and Inman quarrelled. Then nobody can say just how that thing happened. It might well have been accidental. Perhaps one man attacked the other and Mrs. Heath threw herself between them in an effort to help one or the other, and received herself the blow meant for one of the men.

"I never should have thought of that! But it's darned plausible! I believe that's just what did happen; for that, supposing Inman held the bottle, would make Heath loath to appear against him. If Heath knew that Inman killed Mrs. Heath, but did it by accident, by her intercepting the blow meant for Heath, then I can see Perry doing just as he did do. Go away rather than testify to the truth. But when the girl, Bunny, is implicated, then Heath had to come back and do what he could to save her. Oh, by Jove I see! Heath is sure this story will get to the ears of Inman, and then Inman will know that Heath is on his track, and if he doesn't confess, or at least, if Bunny isn't free of all suspicion, Heath will turn up again, and give Larry what for!"

"Yes, that's logically thought out. Then, in that case, the sooner we make public Heath's story, the better. All right, old man, as you say, it'll keep till morning, and then we'll go to see friend Mott. You must go with me, of course, and we must put it to him straight."

"Shall you go to Inman, too?"

"No, I think we'd better let Mott do that. Indeed, I don't see that we need figure in the matter at all except to give the dope to Mott. It's his business after that, and if he doesn't make Larry Inman stand up and take his medicine, then I think Perry Heath will materialize again. And I hope I'll get a peek at him next time. If he comes to you, tell him I'm crazy to meet him."

"You take it all so lightly, Sam. I believe you have no heart, no real emotion."

"I haven't, much, to be frank with you. To me, old son, this is just a case and interests me only as a story book would. The Heaths, as you know were never intimate friends of mine, and if I'm interested in the little Bunny, it's only as in a pretty and unprotected child, I scarcely know the girl, personally."

"All right, then, old man. See you in the morning. Good night," and Cunningham strolled away.

But if Al Cunningham was not making much headway in his detective work, Todhunter Buck began to feel that he was getting along almost too well.

After Larry Inman had told him of coming downstairs late at night and discovering his cousin's dead body,—still warm—Buck was miserable with apprehension. It was all very well to assure himself that nothing—no sort or kind of evidence would make him believe in the possibility of Bunny's guilt, but, even if the girl had no hand in the murder, she must have known about it when she came upstairs, white and trembling, as described by Inman, and with the vanity case dangling from her hand.

Much as he wanted to do so, Buck couldn't believe Larry was lying, or even misrepresenting in the slightest degree.

One of Toddy's faculties was a real flair for the truth. All his life, he had almost invariably been able to tell when any one spoke falsely. It was a sort of insight or second sight, that told him at once of a speakers insincerity.

This trait, of itself, was a strong asset in the matter of detective work, and the only trouble was, it was working against Toddy's own desires and intentions.

He wanted to clear Bunny from the faintest breath of suspicion, but every effort he made seemed to result in further evidence of her implication in the tragedy.

He sat on his aunt's porch in the increasing darkness of the evening, just at the same time that Cunningham sat on the porch of Sam Andersan, across the Gaybrook-bridge.

His thoughts dwelt on the thing Inman had told him, and he tried his best to twist it around to seem a point in Bunny's favor. This, he was totally unable to do, and so he let his mind drift back to the girl herself and her exquisite beauty.

More than mere beauty of feature, he told himself, it was beauty of soul. Why, that angel could no more harbor a guilty thought than a seraph could!

From which cogitation it is plain to be seen that Todhunter Buck was very much in love.

Indeed, he even went so far as to let his fancy play in numbers, even in rhyme. To himself he murmured:

"Your eyes—of a tender, windflower blue,
With innocence back of them, looking through——"

It wasn't really inspired verse, but it pleased his aesthetic sense, and carried a little balm to his torn heart.

Then he came back to earth, and tried to decide what he must do. He had elected himself Bunny's knight errant, he meant to fight for her a la mort and a la mode and any other dramatic way he could find. Moreover, he meant to be practical and if being practical meant smuggling the girl out of Harbor Garden, then, out she must go.

For Toddy Buck was of quick decision and rapid action. He fully believed that Inman had seen Bunny, just as he had described. Buck didn't want to believe this,—far from it,—but Larry had sounded truthful and Tod believed him.

This didn't necessarily argue Bunny guilty in any direct way, but it did seem to prove that she knew of Myra's death at that time, and that fact would explain why Carter found her sobbing so bitterly when she went to her room to tell her the news next morning.

Toddy tried to reconstruct the scene that Bunny left when she went upstairs but this he was unable to do. He thought, it must be that she saw Myra dead, but whether she had seen her killed or not, he had no idea. If she had, why didn't she raise an alarm? Unless,—no, he would never believe that Bunny had herself applied the colors of her vanity case to Myra's face!

Well, he thought, with his usual rapid conclusion, he must ask her about it. It might be hard to do that, but not so hard as to wait in suspense, and perhaps have evidence piling up against the girl he loved.

So Fast

Cook a hot breakfast now in 3 to 5 minutes

QUICK QUAKER cooks in less time than it takes you to prepare plain toast.

That means a hot, nourishing breakfast in a hurry.

It means an excellently balanced ration; combining protein, carbohydrates and vitamines — plus the "bulk" to make laxatives less often needed — cooked and served without muss or bother.

Why go on with less nourishing foods? Quaker Oats and milk is the dietetic urge of today. Start every day that way.

Your grocer has Quick Quaker—also Quaker Oats as you have always known them.

Polarine
"F"
FOR FORDS
POLARINE "F" does double duty for one price. It lubricates both the engine and the transmission. Polarine "F" was made expressly for Fords by the lubricating engineers of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).
Polarine "F" fulfills perfectly every lubricating need of the Ford. A Ford engine lubricated with Polarine "F" runs with quiet efficiency. Polarine "F" stops transmission noises effectively by building up on the drums a stable lubricating film which will not rub off under the snapping action of the bands.
Polarine "F" adds to motoring pleasure and reduces motoring expense. It helps to keep your Ford out of the repair shop and lengthens the life of the engine.
Drain the crank case today and fill it up with Polarine "F".

In Her Grandfather's Footsteps

Is political sagacity hereditary? No scientist ever answered that one—but Miss Flora Cockrell of Warrensburg, whose father and grandfather were canny politicians, is showing marked political ability herself. The granddaughter of the late U. S. Senator Francis M. Cockrell, she is touring Missouri to organize Democratic voters for Congressman Harry B. Hawes in his race for the Senate. Hawes beat her father, Judge Ewing Cockrell, for the Democratic nomination.

TO LEAD RURAL SECTION.

Fred E. Roach

Fred E. Roach of St. Joseph, superintendent of Buchanan County public schools, will preside at the rural section meetings of the teachers' association tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Roach was born and reared in Buchanan County. He taught school in that county eleven years, four years in rural schools and seven in high schools. He was elected to the office of county superintendent of schools in April, 1919, and re-elected in April, 1923.

1st for 9 consecutive Years

For the ninth consecutive year Buick has won first choice of space at the National Automobile shows.

This is Leadership! For this honor goes annually to the member of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce with the year's largest volume of business.

For any other car to equal this would mean retaining continuous leadership until 1936—almost another decade.

The industrial history of America records no more brilliant achievement than these nine successive years of Buick dominance.

Style a'plenty to choose from!

Men still consider an overcoat as a garment that affords warmth and protection from the elements but they also give considerable thought to the styles they choose.

For instance, the out-of-doors men are asking us for the big roomy ulster model, some men are looking for the dressy fly front, box back coats and the younger men are demanding the striking, close fitting, double breasted overcoats which are so popular in smart circles this Winter.

They're all on display in our store today. Tailored by Clothcraft in a wide variety of the season's newest shades, fabrics and patterns—that's your assurance of quality, fit and long wear. The prices? Reasonable enough!

Measured by the mental yardstick the right hat adds inches to one's self esteem. When hats cost so little and mean so much there is small excuse for making an old one do. We have a length of styles that makes selection easy and offer hat suggestions that are safe to follow. Hats that men may laugh in but they will never laugh at.

Are you one of the capless ones? If not, are you well capped? There is no sense in being capless and no reason for being poorly capped. Here you will find an array of caps that all will like and all can afford; caps that hit the high tide of appreciation and the low tide of expenditure.

It is said that the Filipinos wear the tails of their shirts outside. The climate is their excuse. We cannot recommend the practice to Americans even on hot days. ADDRESSES TO BE BEST EVER.

test, Mr. Lee won a prize of two hundred and fifty francs.

While serving the Colors in France he wrote a volume of "Soldier Rhymes," of which General Pershing said, "They are great."

After the Armistice Mr. Lee was transferred from the 135th Infantry of the Sand Storm Division to the Entertainment Section of the army and went from camp to camp entertaining the soldiers.

In Chautauqua and Lyceum he has lectured from San Francisco to New York City, from Manistique, Michigan, to San Antonio, Texas.

GERMANE.

Dr. Charles E. Germane, who will speak on "Personality" at the opening session, already is well known in Maryville. He spoke at the county meeting of teachers this fall and has been here at other times.

Doctor Germane is a member of the faculty of the University of Missouri, being obtained by this state from Des Moines University, where he was dean of the college of education. Doctor Germane is one of the foremost authorities in the United States on reading, and is the author of "Silent Reading," a book published in 1922.

Ferguson.

Milton James Ferguson is one of the speakers whom the teachers are enabled to hear because the state convention of the Missouri Library Association is being held here at the same time. Mention of his achievements is made in another column.

Mr. Ferguson was born in West Virginia, attended the University of Oklahoma and now is state librarian of California. He also is a member of the California bar. During the World War he was California representative of the Library War Service and a member of the advisory war cabinet of the State Council of Defense. One of his hobbies is Boy Scout work, and he is president of the Sacramento council of this organization.

Wright.

J. Kelly Wright is a former lecturer for the Missouri State Board of Agriculture, and his illustrated lecture on "Missouri," is known from one end of the state to the other. Now he has a new one, which he will give at the Friday night general session. Mr. Wright is now field representative of Christian College at Columbia.

Hendricks.

A full account of the career of Dr. E. L. Hendricks, president of the Central Missouri State Teachers College and of the State Teachers Association, is given in another column.

Dunn.

Dr. Fannie W. Dunn, who speaks Friday morning at a general session, is professor of rural education in Columbia University, New York. She has both M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from that institution, and has done much interesting experimental work with regard to rural schools. She is in demand as a speaker in all parts of the nation.

Blair.

If the title of "Missouri's best known woman" was to be awarded, Mrs. Emily Newell Blair of Joplin probably would be the choice. She is especially known for her writing and her activities among women voters.

Mrs. Blair attended Goucher College and the University of Missouri. She was press publicity chairman in the initiative sufferage campaign in Missouri in 1914, served as vice-chairman of the Missouri division of the Woman's Council of National Defense, and was in charge of publicity for that organization. She appeared before the resolutions committee of the Democratic National Convention for the National League of women Voters, and was elected a member of the Democratic National Committee from Missouri in 1921.

Since that time, Mrs. Blair has served as vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee. She lectured on citizenship for the extension division of the University of Florida, was editor of Missouri Women, 1914-15, and on the staff of Green Book, 1920-21. She is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Federated Clubs, League of Women Voters, the Consumer's League, the Southern Society, the Woman's Trade Union League, and the League of American Pen Women.

She is known for her "Letters of a Contented Wife," but has written a large number of other stories and articles for magazines.

Van Cleve.

Miss Jesse Gay Van Cleve is another of the speakers brought to Maryville through the meeting of the librarians. She is an authority on child literature for the American Library Association and makes her home in Chicago. She will speak Saturday morning on "Literature for Children."

Neale.

Dr. M. G. Neale, who will speak Friday night, a former Maryville resident, having been at one time conneted with the college here. He has risen rapidly in the educational profession and now is dean of the School of Education of the University of Missouri. Beyond the fact that he is one of the most prominent educators in the state, data on Doctor Neale was lacking.

WILL SPEAK AT MEETING.

JOSH LEE
Head of the Public Speaking Department of the University of Oklahoma.

YOUNGEST PRESIDENT.

DR. GEORGE WILLARD FRASIER
Head of Colorado State Teachers College at Greeley, Col.

DR. HENDRICKS NOTED LEADER.

Hendricks became president of the Central Missouri State Teachers College, the number of students served by that institution has increased from 2561 in 1915-16 to 4,652 in 1925-26.

Helped Form Phi Delta Kappa.

Doctor Hendricks has been instrumental in the organization of Phi Delta Kappa. He assisted in forming the constitution and wears one of the three honor keys issued to college presidents; a key, which, quoting from the constitution of the organization, "shall symbolize actual accomplishment in the solution of educational problems."

The actual accomplishment of educational problems seems to be the forte of Doctor Hendricks. As secretary of the American Association, of Teachers' Colleges he wrote the constitution and by-laws of that association, which has united all teacher-training institutions of the United States in one organization.

In 1922-23 official appreciation of his service was shown when he was granted a leave of absence on salary for a year. During that year, he spent a semester in Columbia University, carrying a course of study in the problems of school administration, and during the latter part of the year he traveled through Europe studying educational systems and teacher-training work.

Doctor Hendricks holds numerous honorary offices in educational societies. He is director in the American Council on Education and the higher institutions of the North Central Association of Teachers' Colleges and High School. Last year he delivered a series of ten lectures before the Normal Schools of Minnesota, and during the last two weeks of the summer term he held a chair as lecturer at Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tennessee.

The spirit of unity which prevails among the faculty of Central Missouri State Teachers' College is perhaps the most characteristic feature of Doctor Hendrick's administration there. Discord, it is said, is unknown; co-operation prevails, and back of it all is the tact, ability and sincere courtesy of the president.
